

A race doesn't begin by allowing one participant to start minutes ahead of another participant. I assume you would agree with that. The proposed redistricting maps are following that line of thinking, allowing an advantage to one side while handicapping the other. The proposed maps are unfair. Please reconsider.

Connie Evans

Weare, NH