1 Medicaid Coverage of Telehealth Services. Amend RSA 167:4-d, III to read as follows:

III.(a) Coverage under this section shall include the use of telehealth or telemedicine for Medicaid-covered services provided within the scope of practice of a physician or other health care provider as a method of delivery of medical care:

(1) Which is an appropriate application of telehealth services provided by physicians and other health care providers, as determined by the department based on the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services regulations, and also including persons providing psychotherapeutic services as provided in He-M 426.08 and 426.09;

(2) By which telemedicine services for primary care, remote patient monitoring, and substance use disorder services shall only be covered in the event that the patient has already established care at an originating site via face-to-face in-person service; and

(3) By which an individual shall receive medical services from a physician or other health care provider who is an enrolled Medicaid provider without in-person contact with that provider.

(b) The Medicaid program shall provide coverage and reimbursement for health care services provided through telemedicine on the same basis as the Medicaid program provides coverage and reimbursement for health care services provided in person.

(c) The combined amount of reimbursement that the Medicaid program allows for the compensation to the distant site and the originating site shall not be less that the total amount allowed for health care services provided in person.

(d) There shall be no restriction on eligible originating or distant sites for telehealth services. An originating site means the location of the member at the time the service is being furnished via a telecommunication system. A distant site means the location of the provider at the time the service is being furnished via a telecommunication system.

(e) The Medicaid program shall provide reimbursement for all modes of telehealth, including video and audio, audio-only, or other electronic media provided by medical providers to treat all members for all medically necessary services.
(f) Medical providers below shall be allowed to perform health care services through the use of all modes of telehealth, including video and audio, audio-only, or other electronic media. Medical providers include, but are not limited to, the following:

IV. An insurer shall provide reasonable compensation to an originating site operated by a health care provider or a licensed health care facility if the health care provider or licensed health care facility is authorized to bill the insurer directly for health care services. In the event of a dispute between a provider and an insurance carrier relative to the reasonable compensation under this section, the insurance commissioner shall have exclusive jurisdiction under RSA 420-J:8-e to determine if the compensation is commercially reasonable. The provider and the insurance carrier shall each make best efforts to resolve any dispute prior to applying to the insurance commissioner for resolution, which shall include presenting to the other party evidence supporting its contention that the compensation level it is proposing is commercially reasonable.

V. The combined amount of reimbursement that a health benefit plan allows for the compensation to the distant site and the originating site shall be the same as the total amount allowed for health care services provided in person.

VIII. An insurer shall not impose on coverage for health care services provided through telemedicine any additional benefit plan limitations to include annual or lifetime dollar maximums on coverage, deductibles, copayments, coinsurance, benefit limitation or maximum benefits that are not equally imposed upon similar services provided in-person.

IX. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow an insurer to reimburse more for a health care service provided through telemedicine than would have been reimbursed if the health care service was provided in person.

X. There shall be no restriction on eligible originating or distant sites for telehealth services. An originating site means the location of the member at the time the service is being furnished via a telecommunication system. A distant site means the location of the provider at the time the service is being furnished via a telecommunication system.

5 Statement of Intent for Access to Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) in Specific Settings.

I. The general court hereby recognizes that:

(a) Recent medical research indicates that substance use treatment can be safely done utilizing telemedicine (Rubin R., Using Telemedicine to Treat Opioid Use Disorder in Rural Areas. JAMA. Published online August 28, 2019); and

(b) Recent court decisions (Smith v. Aroostook County, No. 19-1340 (1st Cir. 2019)) require the increased availability of substance use treatment in correctional facilities; and
HB 1623-FN - AS AMENDED BY THE SENATE

(c) Recent changes in federal law allow the registration of certain individuals to prescribe opioid drugs to be used in substance use disorder without first conducting an in person examination (21 U.S.C. section 831(h)), which registration regulations are pending.

METHODOLOGY:

Sections 1-2, 4, and 12-36, relative to telemedicine and telehealth services:

These sections functionally codify Emergency Order #8, issued by the governor on March 18, 2020. The Department of Health and Human Services states in general terms that the fiscal impact of these sections is indeterminable.

Section 3, relative to coverage for telemedicine services:

The Insurance Department states that these sections require health plans to provide reimbursement for telehealth services on the same coverage and reimbursement terms as for similar in-person services, and further require that such reimbursement shall include facility fees if the provider is authorized to bill for the same. The bill further prohibits any coverage limitations for telehealth services that do not exist for similar in-person services. As a result, the bill may increase claims costs and premium rates. To the extent that premium rates increase, the bill may also increase state revenues from the insurance premium tax.

Sections 5-11, relative to telemedicine and substance use disorder:

These sections amend Medicaid coverage of telehealth services by removing the prerequisite to establish care via face-to-face contact, provided the physician or other health care provider holds a special registration pursuant to 21 U.S.C. section 831(h), or is exempt from such registration. The Department of Health and Human Services anticipates that while telehealth services are already covered under Medicaid, the bill may result in increased utilization and hence increased costs. Nonetheless, the Department expects the extent of any such increase to be minimal.
In addition, these sections amend RSA 167:4-d by (1) adding a definition of "doorways" within the context of Medicaid coverage of telehealth services, and (2) requiring that notification of medication assisted treatment (MAT) via telehealth services be provided by a health care provider to the appropriate regional doorway, when a patient has consented to such. The sections also amend RSA 329:1-d to (1) allow for the prescription of controlled drugs classified in schedule II-IV for the purposes of MAT for substance use treatment, and (2) remove references to prescribers treating patients at state-designated community mental health centers or state opioid treatment programs certified by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The Department of Health and Human Services expects that the proposed changes may increase utilization for telemedicine services, resulting in a potential increase in state Medicaid costs. However, the Department also expects the changes to result in an indeterminable long-term cost savings as a result of individuals receiving MAT for substance use treatment. The net result is an indeterminable impact on state expenditures.
