

Dafna Tachover

June 4 at 10:39 AM

Slippery slope....5G in action..

So we gave FB and google access to our images for free, they invested money in developed facial recognition software and now it s time to get a return for the investment...they will pay some legislatures (a small change for them), the bill will pass...

It would create a precedent and it will be easier to get other states to follow (for cheaper)...we live in VERY DARK TIMES. and NO, it is not justified to allow the police to use just to catch a few more criminals, if the price is our privacy. But they know we are quite useless in enforcing our rights or lobbying against bills...the US is CAPTURED

THEVERGE.COM

California's statehouse is considering a controversial facial recognition bill