METHODOLOGY:

This bill redefines the roles and responsibilities of the Office of Professional Licensure and Certification (OPLC) for the boards and commissions. OPLC issues licenses, sets fees, provides legal and investigatory services, and presents administrative rules as advised by the boards and commissions. The bill consolidates administrative authority for OPLC in a new chapter and repeals redundant provisions of law. This bill establishes two new unclassified attorney positions. The bill also modifies the existing OPLC Fund further defining it to be a separate dedicated, nonlapsing fund. It also establishes any funds in excess of $5,000,000 shall lapse to the General Fund at the close of each biennium. Currently, any funds remaining in the OPLC fund at the end of the biennium lapse into the General Fund.

The OPLC states the majority of the language in the bill is currently in law under RSA 310-A: and should have a minimal impact. The OPLC states the cost of the newly established unclassified attorney positions is an indeterminable cost as it is up to the Department of Administrative Services and Department of Personnel to determine what labor grade the positions would be. However, the OPLC assumes the positions would be comparable to other agencies and would be between a labor grade FF and a labor grade GG which is between $137,644 ($68,822 x two positions) at the lowest and $221,364 ($110,682 x two positions) at the highest labor GG and the highest step per a year. The OPLC states the impact from changing the OPLC fund from lapsing at the end of the biennium to non-lapsing, to the extent the funds do not exceed $5,000,000, will not necessarily have a fiscal impact but will rather shift where the funds end up at the end of the biennium. This bill will reduce the amount lapsed to the General Fund at the end of the biennium, but it will increase the amount of funds in the OPLC fund at the end of the biennium. OPLC indicates by not lapsing funds their office will be able to lower licensing and certification fees.

Lastly, OPLC states RSA 310-A:1 may need to be repealed as this bill is intended to remove and replace that language and they may contradict each other. Additionally, RSA 310:3, V, states the salaries of the executive director and other unclassified individuals shall be as specified in RSA 94:1-a, but the list of unclassified employees does not include the new unclassified attorney positions created under RSA 310:3, IV.

Since FY 2019, the OPLC has lapsed $3.3 million to $4.1 million back to the General Fund at the end of each fiscal year. Chapter 91, Laws of 2021, changed the laws to have the funds lapse at the end of the biennium starting with the FY 2022-2023 biennium. Based on the historical trends, the OPLC would be expected to lapse between $6.5 million to $8 million back to the General Fund at the end of this biennium. This bill would allow the OPLC to retain the funds up to $5,000,000, thus decreasing the amount to the General Fund.
