Republicans vote to support safety in schools

CONCORD, NH -- Senate Republicans showed their support for safe schools and law enforcement today by turning away efforts to strip resource officers out of schools by voting down SB108 on a vote of 14-10.

Senate Majority Leader Jeb Bradley (R-Wolfeboro) made it clear that SB108 is opposed by law enforcement and the NH School Board Association for good reason, saying, "Parents want the schools their children attend to be safe. Taking resource officers out of our schools will have the opposite effect and goes beyond the findings of the governor's LEACT Commission. SB108 undermines the ability of law enforcement to use all of their available resources in a way that helps maintain a safe environment. By voting down this legislation, we are sending a strong message that keeping our school children safe is a priority."
