Sen. Bradley named Majority Leader for 2021-2022

CONCORD, NH –Senate President Chuck Morse (R-Salem) today announced that Sen. Jeb Bradley (R-Wolfeboro) will serve as Majority Leader for the 2021-2022 biennium.

“The New Year will mean incredible challenges for lawmakers in Concord,” said Morse. “I will rely on Jeb’s tremendous legislative experience as well as his political skills to help navigate our upcoming session and to help make it a success. He has done a great job in this position before so I am confident that he will do so again.”

Bradley said, “It is a privilege to be asked by the Senate President to serve as his majority leader. I truly enjoy working with him and the rest of my colleagues. The citizens of New Hampshire deserve our very best efforts and I plan to work closely with Sen. Morse to make certain that we deliver real results.”

Senator Bradley has served in the Senate since 2009 representing District 3 and previously served as majority leader. During the upcoming session, he is the chairman of Health & Human Services and the Rules Committees, vice-chair of Capital Budget and a member of Commerce. From 2003-2006, Bradley served in the U.S. Congress and in New Hampshire’s House of Representatives from 1991-2002.
